

MECHANICS OF SOUND SHOWN TO STUDENTS

Dr. H. D. Ayres, Professor of Physics, Presents Science of Music TROPHY IS PRESENTED Girls' Rifle Team Presents President Fought with Missouri Rifle Cup

"The Science of Musical Sounds" was the subject of the talk given by Dr. H. D. Ayres, professor of physics, in convocation today. In his lecture, Dr. Ayres told how sound originated, and demonstrated that the body producing sound is always in motion.

The rapidity of the motion must be between certain limits in order for the ear to be stimulated, said Dr. Ayres. He described the method of propulsion of sound waves through the atmosphere to the ear, or other receiving mechanism. Finally, some of the characteristics of sound waves whereby we are enabled to distinguish one musical sound from another, and musical sounds from noises, were explained.

By the use of slides, obtained from Prof. Dayton C. Miller, internationally known sound expert at the Case School of Applied Science, the mechanical differences between musical tones received from a flute, violin, organ pipe, and other musical instruments were illustrated.

Following the lecture portion of the program, Pres. H. W. Foght of the University presented the girls' rifle team with the Missouri Rifle Cup Trophy. This cup must be retained for two additional, consecutive years in order that it may be retained as a permanent possession of the University. Another such cup was permanently won by last year's team.

We and the World

Liquor Criminals Freed

Four hundred prisoners are to be freed from prisons in Indiana as soon as the governor signs the bill repealing the state dry law. The state which repeals enforcement will have this problem of prisoners to face.

Apparently the only just thing to do is to free men who have been placed in prison for violating liquor laws, but this will advance other problems. Freeing this class is likely to enlarge our criminal problem. Forever marked as a prison man and with no means of making a living this group will be forced into crime.

Japanese-American States War

Every American, especially of draft age, is interested in the statement of the Japanese League delegate, "War between the United States and Japan is impossible."

He adds that Japan's attitude if the United States entered the war would be, "If you want to shed Japanese blood come and do it." He gives this as the only reason we would have for entering the war and believes war between the two countries would be insane.

Maryland Follows Michigan

All banks in Maryland have been closed for a holiday against withdrawal. The move follows Michigan withdrawal which totaled $8,000,000 Friday, February 24, from one bank and a sum of $13,000,000 over the state.

After the Maryland move, stocks on the New York exchange took the worst drop of the year. Financial recovery for the United States will be slow until faith in the banking system is revived. With these banks closing in a state-wide move the fear of the thing spreading will back institutions which are sound.

The Other 50,000

"I cannot tell 85,000,000 Germans that they should be satisfied with nothing because 50,000 Germans have a great deal," said Adolf Hitler when considering prisoners in Germany.

One of the greatest factors in the dissatisfaction of the American people is this very thing. People would be better satisfied with their own status if it were not for the wealthy class who display every luxury modern science can produce.

The Federal Farm Board

Under Henry L. Morgenthau the farm board will be liquidated after it takes charge March 4.

The farm board has been an excellent example of how little relief can be legislated for any group whose poor economics are used. The board, in its origin, violated every law of good economics, but public demand forced it upon a frantic Republican administration. Most legislative relief is based upon such futile principles as those used in this attempt.

Miss Helen Reese, former student at the San Antonio Junior college, has enrolled at this University this semester.

BUY ANIMALS FOR ZOOLOGY RESEARCH

Three Neotoma, small animals much like our common water dog, were recently purchased by the zoology department. These animals are especially noted for their large gills and are excellent specimens for research work of this kind. They were purchased from a research company located in Chicago.

Professor Sauer, who recently came here from Lawrence added three large rabbits to the zoology collection of specimens.

PRESIDENT'S CUP TO BE AWARDED AFTER SIX WEEKS

Greek Letter Societies Will Vie with Averages Soon

Annual scholastic awards to the sorority and fraternity leading in scholastic standing at the University of Wichita will be made after the first six weeks of this semester, according to Dr. H. W. Foght, president of the University, who together with Mrs. Foght, sponsors the awards.

Three years ago President and Mrs. Foght offered suitable trophies to stimulate scholastic endeavor among the Greek organizations on the campus. President Foght agreed to present a large silver loving cup to the leading fraternity in grade averages for the year, and Mrs. Foght offered a silver service set to the leading sorority.

Scholastic reports for the last semester of last year, which serve as the first half of the returns show that Pi Kappa Psi leads the sorority group with an average of 83.91, and Pi Alpha Pi leads the fraternity group with an average of 82.52. These figures, however, do not corroborate the returns for the first semester of this school year that are to be the second half of the returns. Certain other Greek organizations have registered gains.

Men of Webster have had possession of the scholarship for the last two years and it will become theirs again this year. A second silver service set is now being offered by Mrs. Foght.

Awards for the past year cannot be granted until after the first six weeks of this semester, when all incompletes for the past semester will have been erased.

COUNTY SCHOOLS MEET SATURDAY

Annual Spring Concert to Bring Hundreds to University

Eight hundred pupils from 36 high schools and grade schools in Sedwick County will throng to the University campus next Saturday for the annual spring concert to be presented at Henrich gymnasium. The program begins at 2 p. m.

Earl K. Hillbrand, dean of the graduate school, has charge of the arrangements for the concert. Dean Thurlow Lieurance will review the concert and will play some of his compositions. They have studied several of Dean Lieurance's compositions, according to Susanne B. Pittman, director of supervised music in the county schools.

Assisting Miss Pittman in the directing of the concert are her assistant supervisors, Mrs. Edna Dawson, accompanist.

Included on the program are the following numbers: "America," "Glowworm" and "High School Cadets" by a rhythm band of 450 pieces; "Home On The Range"; "Jolly Tars" by a chorus of 300 boys; "Singing School," "Wooden Shoes," and "Sweet Nightingale" by a primary chorus of 350 pieces; "Auld Lang Syne" and "Billy Boy" by the harmonica band of 350 instruments; "Gondolier" and "Birds Return" by the advanced chorus of 400 voices; "Flag of the Free" by the combined rhythmic and harmonica bands; "School Days" by the combined choruses.

AUSTRALIAN PIANIST CRITICIZES STUDENT

An audition with Percy Grainger, eminent Australian pianist, was granted Miss Alberta Watkins, senior in the College of Fine Arts, Thursday, February 23, prior to his concert given at Wichita High school. In addition to offering constructive criticism on original compositions which Miss Watkins played for him, Mr. Grainger commented favorably on some of them, advising young composers to make use of native American material. In regard to the southern material, he suggested the southern Negro mountaineers in Kentucky and Tennessee, the Indian, and the cowboy of the plains.

According to Miss Watkins, Mr. Grainger has a pleasant personality and talks fluently. Mr. Grainger is a former teacher at Wichita. Mabel Whitman Hedfield, Wichita pianist, who prizes his autographed photograph which hangs in her studio.

Sam Arnholz motored to Amarillo on business over the week-end. While en route he stopped at Clinton, Okla., to visit with Marc Benjamin, a former student of this University.

GIRLS' TEAM WINS KEMPER RIFLE MEET

Alberta Bainbridge Shoots Score of 100 in Competition

ALL SCORES ARE HIGH

Missouri University Takes Second Place; Oklahoma Is Third

The Girls' Rifle team won first place in the fourth annual Midwest indoor gallery meet held Saturday morning, February 26, at Kemper Military Academy at Boonville, Mo. This is the fourth consecutive year that the team has placed first.

In the team match Miss Alberta Bainbridge shot 100 with the other girls scoring close behind. Miss Florence Mos scored 99, Miss Rebecca Bowditch scored 98, Miss Lucille Everett scored 98, and Miss Pauline Folkers, captain, scored 95.

The scores shot by the members of the team totaled 395 points which was one point lower than the total shot at last year's match. The University of Oklahoma placed second in the meet and the University of Missouri, third. There were only three universities represented in the competition.

Last year Miss Alberta Basye, by shooting a score of 100, enabled the University of Wichita to win permanent possession of the University of Missouri Rifle Cup Trophy. A new cup was awarded the team this year and was presented to President Foght this morning in convocation.

Miss Folkers and Miss Mos are the only two varsity women remaining on the team this year. The team was chosen following the second telegraph rifle match of the year which was held the week of February 18. The members of the team include Miss Pauline Folkers, captain; Miss Florence Mos, Miss Lucille Everett, Miss Rebecca Bowditch and Miss Alberta Bainbridge.

The Military Ball at which the rifle teams were to have been the honored guests was called off Saturday night because of a development of scarlet fever in the school. The girls were entertained instead at informal dances both Friday and Saturday nights, Friday afternoon they went to Columbia, Missouri.

NEW PSYCHO TEST HELPS FRESHMEN

Course Selection is Easier with Interest Test of Psychologist

A test which promises to be of unusual interest both in advising freshmen in their choice of courses and in the analysis of various personal problems on the campus is the one devised by Professor Gordon W. Allport of Harvard entitled "A Study of Values." Professor Allport has devised an ingenious twenty-minute test which serves to bring out in clear relief any unusual tendency toward any of the following six types of interest: theoretical, economic, aesthetic, social, political, and religious. He has found by the use of this test that men students are distinctly more theoretical, economic and money oriented, and women students are distinctly more aesthetic, social and religious, than students in general.

This test has been applied with interesting results at Skidmore College. According to an official report, one-third of the students are majoring in Fine Arts or Music, and their choice of a major is a strikingly clear indication of their interest in the part of nearly all the seniors in these two departments. The choice of Secretarial Science is marked by a conspicuously low score in theoretical interest; the Home Economics student may incline to be either practical in low social, political and religious interest, while the choice of a Physical Education major may go with almost any pattern. The academic majors follow the same lines as those tested by Allport.

EDUCATION MUST GO ON

Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, says in an article appearing in "The Oregon Emerald": "This must be remembered: we can postpone the building of a bridge, or a building, and catch up on such delayed construction later on. We cannot put educational opportunity in cold storage for the duration of the depression and catch up on it later on. For the children who are denied adequate educational opportunity now, it is lost forever. And we shall stand convicted of having balanced our budgets with the starved lives of our sons and daughters."

Rydjord Reveals Unknown Ambition of Napoleon

Napoleon Bonaparte's policy in his bid for world power through the United States and Mexico, hitherto unknown, has been proved through the research work of Dr. John Rydjord, head of the history department of the University, who has contributed his findings to "New Spain in the West" published last December. This book which contains original, unpublished manuscripts of historical findings, was compiled jointly by graduate students in the history department of the University of California. The authors have offered the book as a tribute to Herbert Eugene Bolton, head of the history department of the California school and president of the American Historical Association.

During winter spent in Spain, Dr. Rydjord found and translated numerous documents in Spanish and French which gave Napoleon's plans in America. These documents are in the form of Napoleon's orders to his men and their reports to him.

According to Dr. Rydjord, the manuscripts disclose that Napoleon had three approaches to his aim, that of becoming a world power; namely through the Orient, Europe, and America. His campaigns in the Orient and Europe failed, but the ones in America succeeded and played an important part in the history of the United States and Mexico.

His plans were to institute a war between the United States and England and to foment revolution in Mexico. The war of 1812 did not serve as well as he had hoped in distracting the interest of England from its trouble with France but it helped. Revolution in Mexico took a great deal of Spain's attention.

Had Secret Organization

Napoleon had a secret organization of agents in Baltimore whose sole work was to exert their energy to the starting of a revolution in Mexico. His instructions to these agents and their reports to him were written in code. Dr. Rydjord found this code. By its use the story of operations as told in the reports could be followed.

They show that Napoleon considered England the main opposition of his plan to establish France as the leading nation and center of the world with himself as ruler. By separating her from her colonies, he planned to crush England between his power in Europe and in America.

WAR DEBTS DEBATE BROADCAST BY KFJH

An open discussion debate between the University of Wichita and Friends University was broadcast Tuesday evening, Feb. 28, over KFJH. Oliver Witterman and Tom Croft represented the University. Hinchshaw and Hoff were members of the Friends team. The question was, "Resolved: That the United States should agree to the cancellation of the inter-allied war debts."

Miss Doris Walters, junior, and Miss Lois McBratney, sophomore were two of the six girls who were declared winners in the Beacon Travel Tour Contest. Their victory entitles them to a 14 day Caribbean Cruise.

DEMMIN DISCUSSES PICTURE ENGRAVING

To familiarize students in the newspaper editing class with the numerous processes involved in picture engraving, Mr. F. A. Demmin of the Mid-Continent Engraving company gave an illustrated lecture last Monday, February 27.

Mr. Demmin described and displayed examples illustrating the complete process whereby a picture is transferred from a photograph or drawing to the printed page.

CONVENTION MAY HEAR "MINISA"

Arrangements for the presentation of "Minisa" by Thurlow Lieurance some time next December in Lincoln, Nebraska, are being made through the efforts of Dean Swarthout, dean of the school of fine arts at the University of Kansas, who was an official of the state convention of the Kansas Music Teachers' association in Wichita two weeks ago.

Dean Swarthout was highly pleased with the "Southwest Trails" when it was played during the opening meeting of the convention and immediately set about to arrange with national officials of the association for the Lincoln performances.

The University of Wichita orchestra and chorus will appear in at least two fifty-minute programs, while various members of the organization will be featured as soloists, including Mrs. Thurlow Lieurance, George Tack, Beatrice Sanford and Marguerite Munsell.

Thurlow Lieurance will present a 45 piece symphony orchestra and a chorus of 20 voices.

OXFORD UNION BANS WAR

A box containing 375 white feathers was delivered at Oxford University today, addressed to the 27th members of a student union who voted for the following resolution: "This house will in no circumstances fight for king or country." There was no accompanying note or indication of the sender's identity, but it is believed one of the women's colleges took this way of showing its disapproval of the resolution. Lord Stanley of Alderley and five other members of the union are asking life members to support them March 2, when they are going to Oxford to move that the resolution be expunged from the records.

COUNCIL MAY AID IN TRACK TEAM BUDGET

Members Express Belief That Budget for Sport Should Cover Track

O.K. COLOPHON

Election Will Be Held Soon to Fill Vacancy Left by Kermit Oakes

Appropriation for the track team was one issue discussed by the Student Council when they met in their regular meeting Monday, February 27, with a bare quorum present. Although no appropriation was made, the general sentiment of the council favored affirmative action in the matter provided sufficient funds are in the treasury of the council.

This allocation of funds will probably be made with the recommendation that a track team be financed through the regular athletic fund in the future.

Members of the council expressed their belief that this burden should be carried by the regular fund and not by an application of student funds. Tom Croft, junior representative, said in voicing his beliefs, "If there is to be a track team this expense should and must be carried by the regular athletic fund and not by the council. I believe that track should be included in the sport department, but since it is a departmental activity the council should not make the appropriation in the future."

George Squibb, council president, replied, "The council, in the near future, will make a recommendation that track receive its share of the athletic fund."

The council decided to hold an election for choosing a sophomore representative since Kermit Oakes, last semester representative, has not returned to school this semester.

Colophon, men's journalistic fraternity, was officially chartered before the council adjourned.

WISCONSIN PLANS TO OUST "HELL WEEKS"

MADISON, WIS., March 1.—"Hell Week," long a fraternity institution at the University of Wisconsin, will be abolished if new regulations recommended by a faculty committee and under consideration by university authorities this week are adopted.

The committee's recommendation climaxes an intensive campaign by The Daily Cardinal, student newspaper at the university, against "Hell Week," which formerly were feared and dreaded by every fraternity pledge.
