Voting in SGA Election Concludes Today

CUP PARTY'S slate proposes Tom Seigle for treasurer, Nancy Anderson for secretary, Jim Armour for vice-president, and Dave Pipkin for president.

Candidates for offices on SGA face a test at the polls today in the all-school SGA election. The polls open at 9 a.m. and close at 1 p.m. today.

Students must vote at the respective polling places designated for each college on campus. Those in Liberal Arts and Education will be voting in the CAC, those in Music and Art in the upstairs of the FAC, and Engineering and Business students will vote in Neff Hall. University College freshmen will vote with the college which they plan to enter next fall.

Tracy Burton, chairman of CUP party, made a statement of the general purpose of his party Wednesday. "The general purpose of CUP party is to maintain an effective student government by providing qualified campus leaders, and by working toward the establishment of a statewide student government conference. Such a conference would be a positive action to promote desirable relationships between state universities."

Burton also said that his party seeks to maintain effective student government by "working with the committees and organs of the present SGA to increase the effectiveness of all SGA functions within the scope of SGA's control."

The statement of the Ballast party was released earlier this week by John Messinger, party chairman. In it he outlined the purpose of Ballast to be to increase student activity on campus. Ballast proposes a re-evaluation of Hippodrome, an enlargement of the 2-Bit Flick program, more dances and social events for dorm students, the encouragement of greater participation in CAC committee work, and physical improvement of the campus.

(Editor's Note: The Sunflower's handling of publicity about candidates in the SGA election has been subject to much discussion by representatives of both parties. The staff therefore feels that the circumstances which caused the variance in the amount of printed material concerning the two parties should be explained to all interested students.

The Tuesday edition was scheduled to contain pictures of the top four candidates from both parties, and comments by the party chairmen of both parties. The candidates for Ballast appeared as scheduled for their pictures to be taken, and their chairman submitted his comments on time. However, only one of the four candidates for CUP was available for picture taking at the scheduled time, and the comments by the CUP party chairman were not submitted by the noon deadline on Saturday. The CUP vice-presidential candidate, on behalf of his party, then asked that his party's publicity appear in the Friday

BALLAST CANDIDATES for the top four SGA offices are: Carol Campbell, treasurer; Janice Johansen, secretary; Dave Leach, president; and Dan Tontz, vice-president.

CAC Proposal Downed By Members of SGA

The CAC proposal to take over complete control of Homecoming and Hippodrome events was soundly defeated last Tuesday evening at the SGA meeting.

In the proposal, the CAC offered to finance these two events if the SGA would relinquish their control over them.

As it has stood in past years, the SGA has allotted the CAC a certain sum of money to put these events on. The CAC would then absorb any profit or loss which is incurred in the operation of the events. Under this arrangement, the SGA retains control over the events.

Before the proposal came to a vote, the congressmen engaged in considerable debate over it.

Congressman Gary Stephens said that by divorcing the SGA from these events it would be disconnecting the student body from control of them.

Elaborating on this same point, congressman Fred Funk said, "If we are representative of the student body we should keep control."

In response to these statements, Jim Allen, SGA president, replied that the SGA would still have a voice in their operation. The SGA president is a member of the CAC Board and he makes appointments to five of the seats on the board.

Speaking in favor of the CAC proposal, Jim Armour, SGA treasurer, made the point that the CAC is able to meet any losses incurred in these two events because they have a flexible budget. If the SGA were to be responsible for absorbing the losses, it would be a different matter because of its rigid budget.

When the vote was taken, a large majority of the congressmen voted against the measure.

Another item of business that came before the SGA was the presentation of plans for a fountain with three spouts to be constructed in front of the Ablah Library.

The architect who presented the plans estimated that the plumbing for the fountain would cost around $300, and the actual construction cost would range between $400 to $1000, depending on the material used and the items that are included in the fountain.

Presently $700 has been allotted for the construction of the project, according to Allen. He stated that at the end of the current SGA, about $200 will be left over in the treasury which could be applied to the project.

In committee reports, Janna Wassweiler, chairman of the Athletic committee, reported that Bob Donaldson, athletic coordinator, approved an unreserved seating plan for next year's football games.

Under this plan, 2,700 seats would be made available to the student body, with ticket pick-up being at the window at the night of the game, stated Miss Wassweiler. This plan provides that students be allowed the purchase of two guest tickets at $1.75 per ticket.

Paul Lueker, chairman of the CCUN committee, made a report on the trip that he and four other students made to the Midwest Model UN in St. Louis where they represented Belgium.

One of the major advantages of sending delegations to these meetings is that it gets the schools name before other schools, especially if the delegation is well prepared, according to Lueker.

The next SGA meeting will be May 7.

Easter Convocation Set for Tuesday

There will be an Easter convocation next Tuesday morning. Rev. Ray Ahrens will give an address and the A Cappella choir will sing. The following schedule of classes will be followed:

Convo Postponed

The all-school convocation originally scheduled for today and during which President Corbin was to address the student body has been postponed until sometime after the Easter vacation, according to Dr. Allan Cress, chairman of the convocation committee.

Regular class hours will be followed.

State Merger Election Scheduled for May 14

May 14 has been set as the date for the special city-wide election on state merger for the University. Mayor Carl Bell officially proclaimed the election date at Tuesday's City Commission meeting.

The City Commission unanimously approved a recommendation made by the WU Board of Regents that the special election be called for May 14. Sidney J. Brick, chairman of the Board of Regents, presented the recommendation to the members of the City Commission.

The proposition which will be put before Wichita voters follows:

"Shall the Board of Regents of the University of Wichita transfer and convey all the campus property belonging to said university to the state of Kansas for the purpose of establishing a state university, an associate of the University of Kansas to be known as 'Wichita State University' and to be under the jurisdiction, control and management of the Kansas State Board of Regents, as provided by Senate Bill No. 151 of the 1963 regular session of the Kansas Legislature?"

Those residents of the city who are not registered to vote must do so by April 24. Under Kansas law, voter registration records must be closed for a period of 20 days before any election.

Under the provision made by the Legislature's bill, a city-wide election on the proposed merger must be held by June 15, 1963.

Engineering Open House Begins Today

The School of Engineering's two-day open house begins today with approximately 40 displays set up for public viewing.

These exhibits include demonstrations of laboratory facilities and of basic principles of courses in the engineering curriculum. They are representative of all of the School of Engineering's six departments.

Also on display are a digital computer, an analog computer, and the wind tunnels. These displays and equipment may be viewed from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. today, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow.

Tomorrow evening William P. Lear, local industrialist, will be the featured speaker at the Engineering Banquet. Awards for the outstanding exhibits will be presented at the banquet.

Coffee, Dance, Service Project Highlight Greek Week Activities

A faculty-Greek coffee and an all-Greek dance will highlight this year's Greek Week activities, according to Virginia Schoonover, president of Pan-hellenic Council.

Greek Week, an annual function, is sponsored by the Pan-hellenic Council and the Inter-Fraternity Council.

The faculty-Greek coffee will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m. today in the Provincial Room of the CAC.

Fraternity and sorority members will be edging sidewalks, raking leaves, scraping paint, and doing general yard work as the Greek Service Project for the Institute of Logopedics. Greeks will work from 9 a.m. to noon tomorrow at the Institute. Climaxing the week's activities will be the all-Greek dance from 9 p.m. to midnight tomorrow. Admission is $1 per couple. Tickets may be bought in advance from the presidents of Greek houses. One member of the couple must be a Greek to be eligible to attend.

Editorial Views..

Vote!

Today is your last opportunity to cast your ballots for SGA officers. Every student is urged to vote, for only by widespread student interest can we hope to improve SGA and its handling of student affairs.

We do not suggest that you vote blindly, or that you casually vote for all candidates of one of the two contesting parties. We do not believe that any party is worthy of such devotion.

We recommend that you take the candidates one by one. If you have reason for feeling that a candidate is better than his rival, vote for him regardless of party affiliation. If you know nothing about either candidate, then vote for neither.

Blind party voting may elect some good candidates, but it will also carry into office many inferior ones. However, intelligent selective voting should result in the election of the best of the candidates for each office.

TWO VIEWS

Here Nor There.

Does a WU political party lose its flavor if chewed but once a year? As a freshman many years ago, this writer can't be sure if they ever had an original flavor.

Undoubtedly, last year's KRAP (Kiddies Romping and Politicking) was a refreshing new brand, but apparently the market was poor, or KRAP was unaware of the most important person in any organization—the PR man.

The blurb sheets outdo any of my attempts at a column, and if you haven't been reading them, you've definitely missed a chance to brighten your darkest days.

The "Save the Hippodrome Federation" is indeed a very vital issue, and, much to my delight, someone has finally decided to approach this annual "problem" realistically. Many students have smiled gleefully at the suggestion to confine Hippodrome to a morning session. This, they note, would facilitate matters greatly.

Those matters being that this would mean reducing the number of times they must conceal their fragrant refreshments in order to enter the auditorium. Secondly, another student pointed out that this will mean that they won't have to wait until 5 p.m. to hear the jokes which the master of ceremonies resorts to at that hour. There is a reason for this too; those last-resort jokes are the only things that are funny to the glassy-eyed spectators horizontally sprawled in the first five rows.

This is indeed the common student party, as they are advocating restricting the en-coaching power of the CAC. Ever since the students refused to attend their TGIF dance last year, the CAC has retaliated by beginning an all-out campaign to give bridge lessons, start a bowling team, a chess team, and set up the 2-Bit issue. A Ballast spokesman objected to this arrangement, arguing that publication of the CUP material alone on the day on which most students cast their votes would not be fair to Ballast.

It was therefore reluctantly decided to republish the Ballast material in today's issue, alongside the CUP material.)

The Readers Speak

To the Editor:

As chairman of Ballast Party, I feel that certain points should be brought to light at this time. Number one, CUP has attacked our platform viciously with no constructive counter points of their own. We were aware when we conceived these planks that some would be difficult to accomplish, but at least we have a concrete purpose.

My second point also concerns our platform. It seems we have antagonized certain people connected with the CAC by delving into areas not connected with the SGA. Since when do activities concerning you, the student, not concern the SGA? After all, SGA is your voice on campus.

Ballast party has tried to maintain a clean, intelligent campaign. At times it has been hard, but we managed to contain our anger. Win or lose, I wish to sincerely thank those who supported Ballast Party and those who voted.

John Messenger, Chairman
Ballast Party

To the Editor:

As President of the Student Government Association, I feel a definite need to have my opinion voiced concerning today's elections. Specifically, I am concerned with the office of President of the SGA

After serving as President of this governing body, and after reviewing the candidates qualifications for both parties, I feel without a doubt that CUP's presidential candidate (Dave Pipkin) is definitely the better man for the job. Dave Pipkin has served on SGA, and therefore has the experience which

Varsity-Alum Football Clash Set for Tomorrow

By BOB LEHMAN, Sports Editor
Spring football drills for the University of Wichita come to a close tomorrow afternoon when the Shocker varsity meets an alumni team composed of many ex-Shocker greats.

The kickoff is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. in Veterans Field.

The Shockers have been working for some four weeks now, and will show many new faces among the members of the first two units. Among those who will be making their first appearance against outside opposition are:

Ends: Herb Krumsick, junior; Jackie Turner, junior.

Guard: Rollin Karg, sophomore.

Fullback: Pete Di Donato, sophomore.

Last Saturday the Shockers divided into two evenly-matched squads and held their final scrimmage before tomorrow's meeting with the alums.

In that game the White team, led by Henry Schichtle, defeated the Black team 28 to 12 in a game marked by tough defense through the first three quarters of play.

With the score tied 6 to 6 late in the third quarter, the offense finally came to life, scoring four touchdowns in the final twenty minutes of action.

Tomorrow the Blacks and the Whites combine to meet the strongest alumni team ever faced by a Shocker eleven. Leading the alums this year will be Roland Lakes, 265-pound defensive end for the professional San Francisco 49'ers.

Among the others who will join Lakes for Saturdays game are: Bob Sweazy, Eddie Kriwel, Bob Warwick, Eli Romero, Neil Sikes, Ralph Denton, Willis Towne, Tom Seliga, Max Bretches, John Lusker, R. J. Brown, Mike Cochran, Bill Stangarone, Ron Turner, Charley Wright, J. R. Dumler, Jim Maddox, LeRoy Leep, Loren Schomacker, Adolph Wilson, and Gaylord Bellemey.

The alums have been holding regular practice sessions every evening since last Tuesday on the Veterans Field turf and promise to give the Varsity all they want. In the last alumni game held on the campus, the alums defeated the varsity quite handily. This was in 1954 against a Missouri Valley over KAKE-TV. Conference championship team.

Head coach Chello Huerta said this week that he expects the alums to fill the air with passes during the game. "I think our pass defense will be pretty well tested," the Shocker coach said.

Bill Stangarone, last year's starting quarterback, is expected to do a great deal of the throwing. One of his favorite targets should be Ron Turner, the finest pass-catching end in the school's history.

Saturday's scrimmage will mark the final practice for the Shockers before they begin preparation next September for the 1963 Missouri Valley football race.

A great deal of public interest has been shown in the game, and students are urged to attend. The game will be broadcast over radio station KFJH and televised locally

Leaving tomorrow for the tournament will be: Chet Anderson, Larry Gross, David Grove, Phil Adrian, Dennis Cain, Ben Anzola, and Coach Neil Roush.

Several schedule changes have been made necessary because of the trip to Mexico. The match with the University of Kansas scheduled for next Wednesday has been cancelled, and the Nebraska match has been changed from next Friday to April 18 at 9 a.m. The Shockers will play their regularly-scheduled match with Tulsa on April 16 on their way back from the tournament in Mexico.

National OK's Full Status For AISEC

The University chapter of the Association of International Students in Economics and Commerce has been accorded official recognition by the national conference of the Association at Yale University.

David Pipkin, president of the University group, traveled to the Yale conference last weekend to represent the local chapter. He addressed the Association's congress, and obtained official national recognition for the University chapter.

Following the national conference, Pipkin traveled to the Association's international conference held at Princeton University.

The purpose of the Association of International Students in Economics and Commerce is to exchange student traineeships with firms in other countries in return for obtaining trainee posts for foreign students so that they may come to America.

The University chapter is presently engaged in the project of finding businesses willing to take trainees from other countries to work for a few months in the United States. The local chapter also accepts applications from business or economics students interested in participating in the trainee program abroad.

Traineeships are obtained and awarded through the international Association with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland.

THE READERS . . .

I feel is very necessary for filling this position. Presently, Pipkin is an upper classman and there is no question of the many hours he can devote to his job as SGA President. Pipkin is efficient, a sound thinker, and is loaded with great potential to head the Student Body in a very effective manner. He has been a definite asset to this year's Congress, and if elected will continue the good work.

From what I have observed in watching Pipkin during this year, I can sincerely ask for your support of this candidate for President of the Student Government Association.
