Also we are in direct line with the airplane plants, which are likely to be bombed in case of an air raid on Wichita and our C. A. school which is one of the nation's best, would probably be another objective of the enemy."

Plans for HYM Carnival Dance to Be Held Friday Evening Are Completed by Girls on Campus

'Bill of the Ball' and Presentation of Outstanding Senior Men to Highlight Program; Varsity Crew to Play

PLANS for the Haunt Your Man dance otherwise known as the HYM Ball were completed this week according to Harriet Porter, general chairman of the event. A tentative theme will be used for decorations. The Varsity crew will play for the dance. The intermission will be given to the presentation of the outstanding senior men who have been chosen this week by the Y. C. A. girls...

WITH the HYM dance just around the corner and the sorority pledges reglamoured (goash it's strange what a little powder and lipstick will do) and no longer pledges—everyone should be happy even if we do come to school in the middle of the night and the furnace in the Commons don't burn and the kids swallow a bite of food with every swisher and the old grind of apple polishing has started again.

HAVE you heard the latest words of wisdom from Casanova Costello? We've heard Eddie is an authority in that field and since this column wishes to recognize ability we'll let all of you read one of his famous sayings: "Shooting pin ball machines is just like kissing—one game leads to another."

AN UNANNOUNCED wedding of interest was performed on the campus this week. Edgar Crum, the bride, was beautiful in a dress of pink gingham fashioned in the 1910 style. He wore a beautiful green sash with a crown with a veil yellowed-by-age curtain net. He carried a bouquet of red radishes tied with a huge blue taffeta bow as he tromped up the aisle to the strains of Alvina Ray's wedding march. The groom, M. A. Schermuly, was dressed in slightly baggy two-tone evening attire with a distinguished, celery boutonniere. Other members of the bridal party were dressed in similar exquisite taste. S. W. Wright, the justice of the peace, gave the ceremony distinction by breaking a chair. (Course it was only a mock wedding.)

FROM down Fine Arts way—Virginia Campbell and Chester Yoder are seen together all the time. "Noher new couple" is Kathryn Hogue and Harlow McCosh. Harriet P. just "lives from one week end to the next." Wally has called her from Chicago twice since he left three weeks ago. Louise Albright's date to Topeka and marries her Dick.

Leo Koppin is having an awful hard time deciding which of three girls namely, Eileen Friesen, Lois Twyman and Margaret Ann Ketchersid, to present with a 10-lb. box of candy. "Course it really don't make much difference as they all live at the same house."

NOW then—comes a whole scald of gossip but no names, just because we don't dare. What I.S.A. boy who used to be seen with I. S. A. girls is now seldom seen without a certain D. O. T. Also you might wonder about the Pi Kap who calls up an off-campus man and describes in detail what she was to wear during Courtesy Week (if you call it that). Seems a certain boy and a certain girl should hold the same story whether they are going to HYM together or not. Then there's the Alpha Tau who makes and breaks dates to the HYM without a second thought.

MARTIN PERRY has a new method of catching girls—throwing typewriters—table and chair—the object of his affections. Then B. J. Alexander remarks that she never made Roundabout in four years and Louise Lewis offers to give B. J. part of her reputation on condition that he make this column. In fact, Louise will even let B. J. be the heroine in that little drama with the banker in which Louise played a "squeezing" part. Well, well, it's time for this copy to be "sent down" (which doesn't mean it's going to the pen but rather to the printer).

W.R.A. to Give Party. Members of the W.R.A. Women's Recreational Association, will entertain at a party, Monday afternoon, February 16, from 5 to 7 p. m. in the Women's Gymnasium, according to Lois Shelton, president. Pat Henning is in charge of the party and reservations may be made to her. All girls eligible for membership in this organization should see either Miss Shelton or Miss Henning.

Reporter 'Listening In' Decides Party Lines Are OK

By ELSIE HANSLER As it must to all good citizens, the sharing of a telephone line came to me suddenly about three weeks ago. Not being used to a party line I usually break into the conversation of the person who is on my line by dialing a number while she is talking, consequently she does the same to me. Being of sound mind and abnormal curiosity, naturally I occasionally listen in on the lady's conversation. The other morning I was in a hurry to ring a certain number and, finding a lady on the phone I listened in only because I wanted to use the phone. To me the conversation seemed rather odd for two adult persons, but maybe I'm no judge, so here's the conversation. I'll let you be the judge. "Hello." "How are you?" "I'm fine, how're you?" "I'm fine too, whatcha doin'?" "Eating breakfast."

Ruth Mayfield was presented a pin for the highest scholastic rating among this year's pledges.

Pledges to Give Party

The $150.00 that the pledges earned during the first semester will be presented to 270 actives in a novel way, but the theme of the party is being kept a secret. Marjorie Purnell and Mary Jane Patton are in charge of the plans.

Medieval Youth Selected Sweetheart on Valentine's Day

St. Valentine's day, a day set aside for sweet sentiment, comes again this February 14, 1942. Occurring in the "American" month of February, this day is believed by many to celebrate the memory of a kindly old Roman Catholic Bishop, Saint Valentine, who was martyred in Rome in 270 A. D. for feeding the poor. St. Valentine would go from house to house leaving food on the doorsteps of the needy families. Such action was not tolerated at this time, and for his kindness St. Valentine gave his life. St. Valentine's name was probably used later by the Christians to improve some pagan custom they wished to stamp out, according to certain references. Folklore and village life played the most important part in the Valentine celebration. It was at Lupercalia on February 15 that the youths of Rome would gather and each of the celebrants would draw from a box the name of a lady. The youth was to remain faithful to this lady for one year, at which time the drawing would recur. About the time of Chaucer, you see folks of England, Scotland, and France would similarly assemble on Valentine's Eve, and draw names by chance from an urn, likewise, selecting a sweetheart for the coming year. It was not until the medieval time that the present classes of Europe adopted the Valentine spirit. Knights would exchange services for presents from their ladies. No one knows how the present-day custom of beautiful sentimental messages began, but few forget the sweet prose and poetry received on this day. Many persons hope Valentine's day 1943 will be a peaceful time again, when beauty will reign supreme for all.

Phi Upsilon Sigma Members Build First House on Frat Row

PHI Upsilon SIGMA, the youngest Greek letter fraternity on the campus, was formally organized November 9, 1927. Thirteen men joined the society and submitted to the Student Council an application for a charter. Since that time this fraternity has taken its place as a factor in building up the campus. The first meetings were held in Fliske Hall. Beginning in January 1928, they held their meetings for the balance of the year at the home of one of the members. Later the fraternity secured a residence at 1547 Fairmount. This house was maintained until the spring of 1933.

S'Western Next for Shockers

Wichitans Will Attempt To Reverse 50-24 Loss Against Winfielders

By BILL MENDELL

Coach Bill Monypenny will bring his high-scoring Southwestern Moundbuilders, leaders of the Central Conference, to Wichita, Saturday, February 14 to meet the University of Wichita Wheatshockers at Henrion Gymnasium.

Southwestern, a team that is usually rated among the best in Kansas, defeated the Shockers once this season at Winfield 50-24.

Southwestern has maintained a very high average for points per game this season. Their record shows wins over Drury College 53-47, Washburn 47-44, Morris Harvey 54-47, Mexico Y. M. C. A. 72-34, Pittsburg 57-45, Wichita 50-24, and Emporia State 50-39.

The Builders have lost to Marshall College 57-30, Baker 31-30, Murray State 38-36, and Pittsburg 51-42.

Leading scorers for the Builders are their two starting forwards, Olin Tucker and Winston Balke. Tucker walked away with high-point honors in the game played at Winfield earlier this season against the Shockers. He scored 13 points and Balke scored 12.

Olin Tucker has found his scoring eye in recent games. He scored 24 points against Washburn, 20 points against Pittsburg, 13 points against Wichita, and 14 points against Pittsburg.

Winston Balke is up among the top scorers by virtue of performances like 16 points against Drury, 15 points against Washburn, 16 points against Mexico Y. M. C. A., 12 against Wichita, 12 against Emporia State, and 16 against Pittsburg.

Don Smith, Dix, and McDermott have all shown scoring power on the guard positions for Southwestern. Don Smith hit eight points and Dix seven against Emporia State. D. Smith made four, Dix five, and McDermott four against the Shockers a few weeks ago.

The Builders' two big centers, Phil Moore and Steve Frazier, have been doing their share of scoring this season. Frazier's best scoring performance was against the Mexico Y. M. C. A. team when he scored 15 points. Frazier and Moore each hit a couple of shots against the Shockers in their previous game. Moore hit three against Emporia State.

Southwestern players who may see action against the Shockers include Tucker, Balke, Zahn, and J. Smith, forwards; Moore, Frazier, and Morris, centers; and D. Smith, Dix, Klein, and McDermott, guards.

Likely Starter

Starting at forward against Emporia State, Doyle Kooz, promising junior forward, looks as a probable starter for the Shockers who they meet the high-flying Southwestern University Moundbuilders in the Shocker Gymnasium Saturday night.

Track Season Planned by Ely

More Men Needed for Hurdles, Broad Jump, Two-Mile Run

Encouraged by the excellent turnout for most events, Track Coach Eugene Ely has requested that anyone proficient in high hurdles, broad jump, quarter-mile run, two-mile run, and weights (shot-put, discus, and javelin), report to him immediately.

Although men are available who can fill most of these spots if need a salt is on the lookout for new material in any event with the emphasis on those mentioned. It was previously thought in some quarters that freshmen would be eligible for varsity competition this season thus making available several good men. This, however, has not proved to be the case.

"A big season is being planned but more men are needed for all events," stated Coach Ely. "With the new emphasis on track and other sports as indicated by Mr. Graham, all track men will find a salt waiting for them when they report."

Some of the men who will undoubtedly be in competition this season are new to track followers. However, several of the men, such as Sturdy, Gibson, Kinkaid, and Cox are familiar sights on the cinder.

Pole-vaulting is likely to stand out in Shocker competition this spring, with Bob Warwick going twelve feet or better.

Track men and their respective events are: Danes, Charles Gibson, Capt. Lyle Sturdy, Tom Kinkaid, Zimger Cox, L. Hurdles: Cox, H. Hurdles: None, 14 Miles: Cox, Kinkaid, 1 1/2 Miles: Duncan, White, Mile: White, 2 Miles: None, Pole Vault: Warwick, Hyndman, High Jump: Hyndman, Weights: Hollar, Schaaf.

Math Club Meets
"Topology, or How to Eat the Doughnut and Save the Hole," was the topic of discussion at the meeting of the Math Club of the University last night. Franklin Michaels and Marvin Taylor were in charge of the program.

First Shocker Swimming Team Formed Tuesday

Squad Lays Plans for Coming Season; Pool Yet Undecided

By MARTIN PERRY

University of Wichita's first varsity swimming team was organized at a meeting of prospective members Tuesday, under the direction of Dr. Laurence E. Morehouse, head of the physical education department.

Plans were laid for the coming season in the pool. Meets are in the progress of being scheduled and arrangements are being made to hold practice sessions at one of the local high schools. North High was mentioned as the probable choice.

A total of 17 men have reported for berths on the swimming squad and have listed their preference as to events.

Divers on the team are Bob Warwick, junior, and Pete Rowan, sophomore.

Competition in the sprint crawl events will probably be chosen from the following: Kendall Bowman, sophomore; Warren Hulsey, freshman; Bob Dewey, senior; Gerald Jackson, freshman; Tom Cannon, junior; Maurice Long, freshman; Bob Sutton, senior, and Don Botzer, junior.

In the breaststroke event, four names were entered: Eugene Scott, freshman; Bill Campbell, freshman; Howard Cuthbert, and John Jancef, sophomores.

The only entry in the backstroke event is David Christian, freshman.

Among the men out for this the newest of Shocker sports, a number of former high school star tankmen are recognized.

David Christian was a member of the North High swimming team for three years and competed in his specialty, the backstroke. Likewise, Bill Campbell, Gerald Jackson, Maurice Long, and Kendall Bowman swam for North High.

With the completion of the first two rounds of intramural basketball, the third round will get underway with four teams trying to retain their undefeated records. The Rambler Red's, Phi Sig Black, Alpha Gamma Gamma, White, and the Pi Alpha Pi, while the Phi Sig Black has defeated the Alpha Gamma Gamma Blues and the Men of Webster.

Another interesting game this evening will be played between the Phi Alpha Gamma White, and the Faculty. The Alpha Gammas, who have played only one game, hold a thrilling win over the Phi Sig Gold. The Gammas defeated the Phi Sigs in two overtime periods, 17-15. The Faculty has defeated the Pi Alpha Pi for their only win, and has lost to the strong Holyoke Wildcat team, 70-16.

In a SHOCKER SPORTS CORNER With BILL HODGE

AN OLD AMERICAN CUSTOM, that of playing the game despite unmountable barriers, turned up at the Shocker gymnasium last Thursday night when five members of the faculty formed a basketball team to meet the Holyoke Hall Wildcats in the intramural basketball tournament.

Sandlot baseball with its sore arm, tennis with its painful, and golf with its obscene mutterings were joined by faculty basketball and its (Oh so weary) glance toward the sidelines where there was no reserve ready to come to their aid. As in all cases of its kind, not all of the five players put out their best efforts but the appearance of Coach Gene Ely and Lieutenant Luceur after the game verified the opinion that they had given their best.

As for the game itself, five players were on the floor in the kind of suits that the Faculty are supposed to be wearing. This much can be said.

It was a novel game, however, in which everything was different. Double dribble became dribble double, instead of dribbling the ball, the hand down the court, and instead of giving spectators the same old boring thing that they see in every basketball game, such as hitting the basket, they frequently missed the backboard entirely.

Leading the Faculty offense in the game, Gene Ely and Lieutenant Luceur played their hearts and legs out. Ely is a player that this corner will back as good for two buckets in any man's basketball game—one in each hand. The officers, however, couldn't keep their feet for that may have been the reason for their not breaking any new scoring records.

For the Faculty team, however, it must be said that they were game to the last—but unfortunately it was the wrong game.

The past week saw Henry Clougherty, promising freshman football player who was being worked into the grid plans for next year, leave for the United States Army. A leatherneck by the name of Rip DePascale, who played at end on the varsity, laying plans to leave in around two weeks for the army air corps.

Chief Love, sports editor of the Wichita Evening Eagle, returned to his desk on Monday morning after a two-month bout with pneumonia that nearly scuttled him.

Ex-Glider Henry Stapsinski who went with the draft last November is now on the other end of the telling on the athletic field. Stapsinski was taken from his neckle to the Shocker line-up last season to go to the army and now he is an assistant athletic director.

The State College Leader of February 5 came out with an item revealing that Paul Waldorf, head football coach at Fort Hays State, is not going to be back at his post next season. Mr. Waldorf who is the brother of Lyn Waldorf of Northwestern University, has been granted a year's leave to attend the University of Wisconsin on work on his doctorate—in foreign languages. Wonder if that's so he can learn to understand his players.

Sports Enthusiast Mr. Leslie M. Blank of the speech department is going around the campus these days calling Cage Coach Jack Sterrett a mug-wump. . . A mug at one end, and a wump at the other.

Mikesell Speaks in Group

Nye's Freshmen Meet St. Johns And El Dorado

Junior College Has Won 15 Consecutive Games Without a Loss

Coach Paul Nye's freshman basketball team will be up against two tough teams when it meets St. Johns of Winfield Saturday, February 14, and Friday, February 27, and El Dorado Junior College Thursday, February 19.

When the Shocker yearlings meet Coach Melvin Binford's El Dorado Junior College Grizzlies at El Dorado, February 19, they will face a team that has won 15 games in a row this season without a loss.

Included in the Grizzlies' long string of victories are wins over Ark City Junior College 47-27 and 39-25, over Dodge City Junior College 44-15, over Pratt Junior College 46-26, over Hutchinson Junior College 32-20, over Sapulpa College of Oklahoma 70-29, and over Sterling College (a team that defeated the Shocker Varsity) at the late former Ark Valley stars from El Dorado High School, Kent, Swingle, and Beal, forwards, Covert, center, and Barr, Draut, and Durant all played with El Dorado High School.

The Grizzlies' biggest offensive threat is the black-haired Bob Kent, the El Dorado boy who played with the Shocker Fresh last year before dropping out of school in mid-semester. Kent made eight field goals for 16 points to lead the El Dorado Jucs to a 70-27 victory over Sapulpa College. He showed the form that brought him Ark Valley high school honors when he scored 14 points against Pratt Junior College.

Dale Covert, former All-Ark Valley guard, is the big center for the Grizzlies. Covert is both an offensive and a defensive star. Big Covert scored nine points in the Pratt game.

Other offensive stars include McClintock, who scored 12 points against Sapulpa, and Barr, who scored nine points against Hutchinson Junior College.

The latest victory chalked up by St. Johns of Winfield, who will meet the Shocker Fresh twice this month, is a 42-35 win over Haskell Institute, a team that defeated Friends University.

The Shocker yearlings have shown spots of brilliance this season, especially when they forced the Oklahoma Aggie freshmen into an overtime period before going down in defeat 18-17.

Keith Oliver and Bill Ellis will probably start at forwards for the yearlings in these games. Bob Collum, who made eight points to lead the scoring against the Jayhawk "B" squad, will start at center. Junior Dumler and sharp shooting Kenneth Ptacek will start at guards.

The freshmen have lost Parker through ineligibility, but have gained two new players this second semester, Fleming and Galen Dawson.

Shockers Split; Win, Lose Game

Wichita's Shockers knocked two more games off their remaining basketball schedule during the past week, winning over the Washburn University Ichabods 30-26 and losing to the high-flying Emporia State Teachers College Hornets 47-35.

Against the Ichabods last Friday night, the Wichitans rallied in the last half to pick up 21 points to assure their winning margin. Marvin McDonald, junior letterman guard was the leading scorer in the last half, picking up 10 points in this game.

Weakness through the absence of Bob Jenkins, six-foot four-inch center, Paul Hesse, senior forward, and Don Hollar, sophomore forward, the Wichita team was swamped by the high-scoring Hornets in the second half to bow out on the bottom end of a 47-35 score.

Hill Writes About Rubber Production in South America

NEARLY 90 to 95 per cent of the rubber produced throughout the world is found in the Amazon Orinoco River Valleys of South America, according to the "Economic Botany" by Albert F. Hill.

This rubber is the para rubber type, scientifically called Hevea brasiliensis, the author records. There are an estimated 300,000,000 trees, which cover approximately 1,000,000 square miles.

Good para rubber requires uniform climatic conditions, with a temperature ranging between 75 and 90 degrees Fahrenheit accompanied by rainfall ranging between 80 and 120 inches, Mr. Hill explains.

Para rubber trees may live to be 200 years old. These trees sometimes grow to heights of 60 to 100 feet and have a girth of eight to ten feet, he states.

Flowers of the para tree are small and inconspicuous, he writes. The fruit of the tree holds three seeds which contain between 23 and 32 per cent fatty oil. This is extracted for use as drying oil.

Natives, called seringueiros are employed by the owners of the rubber estates to tap the trees, Mr. Hill adds.

There are three types of tapping: herringbone, one-sided and spiral. Tools include axes and chisels, he writes. Morning hours are the most suitable for tapping. The sap runs from the tree into a cup, the groove of the tree reaches one and one-half inches wide they are no longer tapped until they heal over.

The rubber industry is only 100 years old. In 1835, the United States sent investigators to South America to study the South American rubber problem in connection with the United States rubber situation.

New Airplane Motor Developed By U. of Kentucky

Lexington, Ky.—(AP)—Development of a radically different type of airplane motor, more efficient than any now in use, "progressed to a marked degree" are we confident that the objective is well within sight, said all major officials of the University of Kentucky College of Engineering and Architecture.

Dean James H. Graham, reported to the board of trustees, revealed the development began a complete scrapping of a prior valve construction that had an accepted practice for two valves, and the making of a start for "a superior solution" to the problem.

Radio Censorship Code Prevents Spreading Material of Aid to Enemy

RECENTLY adopted by the office of censorship in Washington, the new radio censorship code is designed to prevent spreading information that may be of value to the enemy and to exercise careful control over certain programs that might be used as espionage tools from large enough audience that no one person is responsible of being able to speak of radio. Foreign language broadcasts come under special control. Scripts are to be checked for information that is harmful to the war effort. Furthermore, station managers to check scripts carefully of broadcasts so that no deviation from the originals are possible.

Even the request program be changed under war conditions. The code aims to allow the widest possible freedom of expression without endangering the war effort. American radio's position as most free in the world will be threatened. Maintenance of American freedom is essential to an victory; radio is a direct link between the hearts of government centers of war and the people. It is essential that the voice of radio speak both wisely and calmly.—Minn. Daily.

Ralph Graham Will Face Task In Spring Drills

New Shocker Football Mentor Will Introduce New System Here

Wichita, Kan., Feb. 12 — Spring football practice, called for about March 15, will face Ralph Graham, new University of Wichita athletic director and head football coach, his first chance to view the 1942 Shocker football material.

His immediate job will be to fit this material into a new style of play for Wichita—the Warner system with variations—replacing the Notre Dame system in use for 12 seasons under former Athletic Director Al Gebert.

This means that Graham's basic formation will be the single wing back with an unbalanced line both right and left. He also will use the double wing back formation with slight variations.

The double wing back will be used with an unbalanced line and at times the backfield arrangement will be in the form of a short punt setup. The former El Dorado, Kan., High School and Kansas State College football, basketball, and tennis sensation, intends to use a shift from the short punt arrangement to a single wing back.

This style differs from the Notre Dame system in that all Notre Dame teams line up in a "T" formation with a balanced line and shift either right or left. Graham's system, and incidentally, one which has been used successfully by his boss, Bo McMillin, at Indiana University, will incorporate numerous spinner and reverse plays.

Not a rabid "system" man, Graham says: "After all, any system is pretty good when you have good enough material to play it."

"Rammin' Ralph has been McMillin's varsity backfield coach at Indiana for the past eight years. He was appointed to the Wichita athletic directorship January 19.
