LeRoy Lewis To Speak At Debate Meet

Will Attend Meeting Of The Missouri-Valley Association

LeRoy Lewis, debate coach at the University, will be one of the featured speakers on the program of the two-day session of the Missouri-Valley Debate Coaches' Association held at Kansas City on October 26-27.

Other speakers will include H. T. Hill of Kansas State Agricultural College, who will talk on "Some Aspects of the Psychology of Speech," and Nina Virginia Bailey of Sterling College, who will speak about "A Bibliography of Sources of Material on the Phi Kappa Delta Question."

The open-examination movement "is a distinct privilege for the University to have a speaker on this program," said Carl England, assistant professor of speech on the University of Wichita campus.

Earl Fulton, former student at the University and fullback on the Shocker squad for four years, was visiting on the campus October 19. His brother, Kieth, is a junior at the University and half back on the football team.

Sighs, Compassion Reign As Frosh End First Tests

FRESHMEN at the University are uttering sighs of relief and expressions of compassion for one another, following the completion of their first six weeks tests.

A poll of freshmen opinion by superclassmen shows that either these young University students were born under a lucky star or they're just plain smart. Teachers should be pleased to hear that general student opinion, ranging from California to Indiana, is that their tests are as tough as those given in the larger universities.

Physicians Appear in Radio Program

Alice Campbell Wrigley, of the Arts College and Mrs. Frances Fritzen, former instructor in the physical education department, will be featured in a radio program broadcast on KPH beginning Friday, October 26.

Theme For Homecoming Is Selected

'Forward Shokers' Is To Be Featured In Festivities

'Forward Shokers' has been chosen as the theme for the Homecoming day activities that have been planned by the committee appointed by the Student Council for this year. The theme will be carried out by the Greek letter organizations in decorating their houses and floats.

Other themes to be considered before finally choosing one, were "The Good Old Days," "The Reason for Choosing this One is that the University is facing a new era under the leadership of a new president, Dr. W. M. Jardine."

Homecoming festivities will start on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock with a parade which will start from Waco and First and will proceed down Douglas to East High before disbanding. The parade will be led by the R.O.T.C. Band followed by the Homecoming Queen. The Girls' Drum and Bugle Corps will also appear in the procession.

Floats will be divided into four classifications: the fraternities, societies, faculty and departmental clubs. A trophy will be offered to the fraternity and sorority having the best float. A suitable prize will also be given to the other two sections which enters the best float in keeping with the theme.

Delta Omicron won the trophy for the best float and Epsilon Kappa Rho won the prize for the best decorated house in last year's contest. In the fraternity group, Phi Lambda Psi won both trophies.

Houses Judged at Night "The fraternity and sorority houses will be judged both afternoon and night this year," Mr. Pray announced. "The judging will be put together in determining the winners."

The Homecoming Queen will arrive at the game in a car which will be her for the day and will be seated with her attendants in the center of the field for the coronation services. The honor of playing the crown will go to the acting captain of the day's game.

She will also be guest of honor at a variety given in her honor in Henrich Gymnasium that evening where a fitting program for the occasion will be given.

Dr. Walter Pennington, associate professor of English, was elected delegate to the national convention of the American Association of University Professors, at a recent meeting of the Wichita Association. The convention is to be held during Thanksgiving vacation at Chicago.

Yester-Halloween Pranks Done with Skill and Verve

SOPHOMORES and other upperclassmen in favor of a return to the "good old days" policy of making the freshmen less fresh probably would not welcome a return to the traditional ways of celebrating Halloween in which University alumni enjoyed.

The Yellow Dogs, an organization of men who lived at Fiske Hall during the days of Fairmount College, were the leaders in all the devilry accomplished on the campus, and literally made every night Halloween in 1926 when the University of Wichita took the place of Fairmount College and the men's dormitory was discontinued, most of this type of school spirit died out.

Take Cow Into Chapel This is the sort of thing which these young men regularly planned and carried out. One morning in 1929 a cow belonging to the Rev. H. L. Marsh was found on the platform of the chapel in Fairmount Hall. Fritz Hauke, custodian, found the animal and reported it to President John Finlayson. The boys responsible for the deed were fined $5 and were required to clean up the chapel after the cow was removed.

In 1922 this incident was repeated the victim being a horse instead of a cow. A dozen of the football squad worked to get the animal out of the building, he evidently having taken a fancy to the place. This time the boys were wise. They planned the hat of the president of the Y.M.C.A. in a conspicuous place as evidence. But this young man denied having any part in the deed, and so all the members of the Yellow Dogs were under suspicion. Finally two students confessed, and were requested by President Finlayson to apologize publicly or discontinue their college careers.

Keep Abreast of Times Since the automobile had replaced the horse in almost every field by this time, the boys decided to keep abreast of the times. Dr. Finlayson had a Briscoe sedan which everyone knew by sight. The Phi Alpha Pi's made plans to punish one of their members in the morning of the parade to sweep out the hall of the main building of the college. When he arrived there, he found the Briscoe in the front hall with Dr. Finlayson standing beside it pumping pistons into one of the deflated tires. Mistakenly, the boys for the culprit who had returned to the hall of his crime, the president shouted at him to pump up the tires while he went to look for the rest of the gang. The innocent, astonished frog could only obey.

W.U. Is Given Highest Rank In Forensics

Wichita Listed Above All Colleges In Speech Work

Wichita stands first among a list of 160 universities and colleges in the United States in rating for the total number of forensic contests won for the years 1930, 1932 and 1934 in the national Phi Kappa Delta speech tournaments, according to a tabulation appearing in the October edition of the Forensic, monthly magazine published by the national honorary speech fraternity.

"It is indeed a signal honor for Wichita to be rated so high in forensic work," declared Leroy Lewis, University debate coach. "Such honors can come only with hard work and lots of study, and our people who were instrumental in putting us there, certainly did a lot of both."

The ratings were made by the number of contests won in debate, oratory and extempore speaking contests, for the past three national contests, which are held every two years. State contests are the alternate years.

Winning second in the men's section with Clayton Walton as representative, and Lowrie Jane Smart placing third in women's division in oratory at the national meet at Lexington, Kentucky, last year, helped place Wichita's record top notch. Hastings, Nebraska, ranked an even tie, in the total calculations.

Of special interest to University students also, is the fact that an article concerning the history of the famous "Four Horsemen" appeared in the October Forensic magazine. These four, Oliver Witterman, Tom Proft, George Squibb and Clayton Walton, who began their friendship in speech work in undergraduate days and continued it throughout their study at the University of Wichita, are all going to law school at Washburn in Topeka this year.

Omnibus Group To Hold Large Reunion Nov. 3

Scores of Kansans are planning to attend the Omnibus College Homecoming reunion to be held here Nov. 3 and 4, according to Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Goldman, director of the enterprise. The meeting will be held in conjunction with that of the State Teacher's Association on Saturday, Nov. 3.

One of the features of the evening's entertainment will be the third auto parade from the Western expedition last summer. The quartet is made up of two present University students, Johnny Burris and Kenny Doze and two alumni, Wes Landers and Johnny Freyk.

Mr. Frank is at present teaching in the high school at Marion, Kansas. This quartet originally started while washing dishes in camp and has gradually worked itself up to its present well known standing. Their attraction was such that the girls on the trip composed a song about each one of them, "Dinah," "Sweet Sue," and "Drifting and Dreaming," are their standing numbers.

Miss Marian Jean Goldsmith, University freshman, will play several selections on her harp. There will be group singing during the course of the evening, when they will sing the Omnibus songs—Moonlight Lu, Kansas, and others.

Three University professors, Dean Leslie B. Sipple, Dr. Glenn A. Bakum and Ernest Leo W. Allman are associated with the Omnibus College last summer.

Slender Margin for 'New Deal' U. S. Newspaper Survey Shows

Here Is No. 4 of a Series of Articles That You'll Want to Keep In Your Files

NEWSPAPER executives of the United States view recovery efforts at Washington as strictly an economic construction in which politics plays but a secondary part. This fact is stressed pointedly in the survey, out this week, consisting of the opinions of 1,733 editors, and made by Newsdom, a newspaperman's publication in New York.

NEWSPAPERS EVALUATE 'NEW DEAL'

Table with columns: State, Population, Circulation, In Favor, No, In Part, Population Represented, Circulation Represented. Lists states from Alabama to Wyoming.

THE Democratic newspapers are not fully in favor of the New Deal either. Twelve per cent of them are against it, while 37 out of 507 are doubtful as to the results.

Many newspapers fearlessly state a preference for certain political principles and platforms, and whatever may come they adhere to this policy. These declared opinions of these newspapers toward the New Deal indicate that interests of the country at large are greater than prejudice of selfish political aims.

Of probably greater import in this national question are the opinions of those newspapers which keep their editorial columns free from political preference and tread a stated independent political path. Of these 637 have stated opinions—306 of them favor the New Deal, 235 are forcibly against, and 116 would accept if restrictions were placed upon certain parts of the alphabetical control. Thus 53 per cent of the press are for and 47 per cent against.

My pipe is about average size, and smoking it leisurely as I like to do, a pipeload of Granger lasts me about 25 minutes, and that means that I get about 21 good pipeloads from every package. Was there ever so much enjoyment for so small a cost?"

Freshman To Play Bethel On Gridiron

New Players To Get Chance To Show Strength

With a squad of carefully selected freshman prospects, Coaches Al Gebert and "Red" Shadoan, will go to Newton Saturday afternoon for a football game with Bethel College.

The Bethel Collegians have been running up a series of victories this year. Veteran players and sufficient substitutes make the Newton club very formidable.

The Shocker frosh are boasting of 30 former high school captains on the club.

Those making the trip will include these men and many more who were prep school stars.

At the center post will be Twell, who was captain last year at Pittsburg; Lockman, East high school captain, and Schroeder of East High.

Guards will be Henderson of Mahaska, Reed of North High school, Wolts and Moulou of East High, Crandal of North and Galloway who was formerly high school captain at Milton.

Tackles will be picked from a field of stars. Byers of Augusta, Perrine of Andover, Carrier of North, Mercer of Garden City, and Nelson of North High.

The Shockers have a sensational group in the end race. Leading the pack is Hofer, Inman captain, Jones, Herring, Captain, Gill of Oxford, Rosenbaum of Pratt, Hall of Newton, Cross of Utica, Eikerman of Fowler, and Quannah Fields of the American Indian Institute, Theo Hall of East High and Lovett of McCracken are exceptional prospects also.

Frosh Have Strong Backfield

The quarterback assignment will probably fall on Cox, former McCulloch captain, Michael of Salem, Mass., Mike Gauthrop of Milton and Frailey of Howard.

Freshman halfbacks include Walker of North High, Hollowell, Walter Eldorado captain, Ward, former Purdue frosh captain, Buell, Salina captain, Henry McClain of Oklahoma and Willis, Pittsburg co-captain.

The fallback post will be ably defended by Waddell of Sedgwick, Hamm of East High, Hall of Solomon and Niehaage of Moundridge.

Championship Race Settles After Upsets

Iowa State and Kansas State Loom as Contenders

Slamming the powerful Iowa University into the ranks of the defeated last week by a commanding score of 31 to 6, the Iowa State grid machine, ranking team of the Middle West, stepped into the sports high early, and experts are building them up to be the team that will show the championship Cornhuskers the closest run for the Big Six crown.

Last week the Huskers barely won over the Oklahoma Sooners, 6-0, after getting romped on for three-quarters of the game.

Kansas State, ranking dark horse, also garnered their share of grid honors by downing the Kansas Jayhawks, 13 to 0, at Manhattan, before a homecoming crowd.

With the six games of Big Six football completed, all predictions point to a Nebraska victory, in the year's race.

Oklahoma goes to Kansas this Saturday, with the Sooners heavy favorites. Perhaps the most interesting battle will come when the Cats of Kansas go to tackle the Tulsa University hurricane.

Hinton Attends Hockey Meeting

New Interpretation Is Given Rules at Chicago Convention

Miss Evelyn Hinton, instructor in physical education for women, spent from Thursday to Sunday of last week in Chicago attending a conference held for the purpose of aiding officials in better interpretation of rules and to improve technique in officiating.

Miss Ann Townsend, president of the National Association of Field Hockey, called this meeting and presided for the four days. Miss Townsend has been captain of the All-American Field Hockey team since 1923. At this convention Miss Hinton was made a member of the Midwest Committee on Field Hockey.

The changing of several field hockey rules was discussed and passed on, which Miss Hinton says will make quite a change in hockey games. While at the convention Miss Hinton attended two demonstration matches of field hockey.

Many Upsets Featured In Circuit Play

Hays Takes Undisputed Lead in Central Conference

GAMES THIS WEEK

Team	W	L	Pct.	TP	OP
Fort Hays State	2	0	1.000	27	7
Wichita	1	1	.500	26	18
Southwestern	1	1	.500	9	13
Pittsburg	1	1	.500	25	22
Washburn	1	1	.500	19	18
Emporia	0	2	.000	6	34

With only one circuit game this week, the Central Conference is quiet. Washburn will play Emporia Teachers at Emporia Friday night.

Southwestern proved a big upset in the Conference last week by defeating Pittsburg. Overreem, fleet Southwestern back, ran 69 yards in the third quarter to carry the ball over for the Moundbuilders' touchdown. The Builders scored a safety on the Gorillas when the ball sailed over the head of Sellman on a bad pass from center. The final score was 9-7 in favor of the Moundbuilders.

Fort Hays defeated the Central Conference champions from Wichita in a hard fought battle at Hays last Friday. It was the brilliant playing of the famous Cockey Sexton that spelled defeat for the Shockers. Palmer was another outstanding star for the Tigers in his long passes to Gruver, the Tigers' right end. Although the Shockers were outplayed from the first they held the Tigers for downs and once held the Hays back on the three inch line.

Although the Tigers are leading the conference at the present time, Southwestern and Pittsburg are real contenders for the crown this year. Southwestern plays the Panhandle Aggies this week-end at Goodwell, Okla. This is not a conference game, and will not impair the Moundbuilders' standing in the conference.

Emporia Teachers trounced the Oklahoma City Goldbugs to the tune of 18-0 last week. The Teachers have won no conference games this season as yet but they play the Ichabods this week. This game will probably tell the tale of the team that has been in the cellar this year, dopsters agree.

Grid Games Cost $8.35 An Hour for Local Fans

It costs $8.35 an hour for University of Wichita fans to watch a Shocker football game. The time the ball is officially in motion during the entire game—clocking each play with a stop watch from the time of the kick-off to the final whistle—amounts to the astounding short-period of about 12 minutes.

If the tickets cost $5.00 a game one would pay at the rate of $24.23 per hour. If by chance you know someone who has a yen for "big-time" football, it can easily be figured out that he pays as high as $50 an hour to satisfy this desire.

Game Lasts Two Hours

The official playing time of one game—four quarters of fifteen minutes each—includes time for signals, formations, and shifts. The rest period between the first and second quarters, and the third and fourth, is one minute; the time between the halves is fifteen minutes. Including periods for "time out" the total time from the initial kick-off to the closing gun, for the regular Shocker football games in 1933, averaged two hours and twenty minutes.

The average play in football lasts approximately four and one-half seconds, hardly enough time for the spectators to get excited. It remains for the long plays, those from seven to fifteen seconds long to give the grid fan his greatest thrills. During the actual play the suspense is tremendous, and this is really what makes football the game it is for the spectators.

Plays Relatively Short

Take the case of the University of Wichita-Emporia Teachers game which was played at Emporia last October 12. In this game Jack Grubb of Wichita thrilled the 4,000 spectators when he intercepted one of Emporia's lateral passes and ran 45 yards for a touchdown—the first score in the game.

By actual timing this play lasted fourteen and one-half seconds, the longest in the game. By the time Grubb was safely across the Emporia goal line, every fan in the stadium was at the very height of excitement. Cheering rocked the stands; pent-up emotion exploded.

Should Rules Change?

But what of the fact that the total time the ball is in motion during an entire game is only twelve minutes? Should rules be established which would double or triple this period—the time when the players are giving every ounce of their energy and the spectators are at a frenzied pitch?

It has been proved by careful observation that the spectators in the stands actually push and sway with or against the ball, according to which way they would like it to go. When the losing side cuts the air with "Hold 'em" they are unconsciously pressing their shoulders against an imaginary wall.

Students of oration tell us that a speaker who gets his audience extremely interested not only aways them mentally but also physically. Football is similar, but more exhilarating, more intense. The greater the action and excitement, the more physical energy released.

Therefore, even though the Wichita football fan is paying $8.35 an hour to see actual football, perhaps it is best for everyone concerned that the entire time of play is only twelve minutes. If this tension were held for an hour, not only the players and the referee, but the fans as well would have to be carried out of the stadium.

Miss Lolie Smith of the Home Economics Department spent last week-end at the Home Managing Home in Manhattan, Kansas. Miss Smith attended the K.U. Manhattan football game.

Sixty Entrants In Ring Tennis

Representatives From Each Sorority Enter Ball Tournament

Sixty girls at the University of Wichita have turned out for ring tennis. This is practically a landslide and the gym is literally swamped. Ring tennis is carried out in an inter-society doubles' tournament.

The tournament must be played on the time scheduled and all matches must be completed by Thanksgiving. Following is a schedule of the games to be played:

- Round 1, completed by Wed. Oct. 31.
- Round 2, completed by Wed. Nov. 7.
- Round 3, completed by Wed. Nov. 14.
- Round 4, completed by Wed. Nov. 21.
- Finals, completed by Wed. Nov. 28.

The scoring of ring tennis is the same as in regular tennis, the winner must have two out of five sets. The only default in the game is to fail to keep appointment without having notified the opponents two hours in advance.

Every group on the campus will be represented in this tournament. Epsilon Kappa Rho has fourteen entrants; Pi Kappa Psi, eight; the Vandals, who make up the sophomore-senior team, have six entrants; Delta Omega has four; Sorosis, four; and the Vikings, who are the freshman-junior team, have two entrants.

The pairings for the first tournament are as follows:

- M. Simmet and V. Alford vs. K. Tennant and L. York.
- E. M. Zell and N. Schlicting vs. J. Alpaugh and M. Buga.
- E. M. Zell and N. Schlicting vs. J. Alpaugh and M. Buga.
- P. Sizzle and F. Wright vs. F. Southworth and L. Carnoy.
- R. Knevelton and A. Calkins vs. M. York and F. Torrey.
- M. Mitchell and M. Le-Gard vs. B. Bowditch and M. Shap.

Shockers To Enter Annual Elk Tourney

Austin Well Pleased With Frosh Basketball Prospects

Under the coaching of Lindsay W. Austin, early aspirants for edge positions on the University of Wichita squad are rounding into shape for early season practice and league games.

Twenty-six men, all having seen service with flashing high school cage teams or independent quintettes throughout the state, remain on the squad. Austin has only six veterans to fill out the Shocker squad. The remainder are first-year men and freshmen.

Outstanding among the first-year men are Cupit and Winters from Wichita North High, Skinner, Perry and Souders from Wichita East, while Volkman from Goodard, Wall from Belle Plaine and Snodgrass from Pittsburg are out-of-towners showing nice form.

"As yet no outstanding players have caught my eye, but we expect to have a well-balanced squad on the court for the varsity season, when we get a line on the football men who will be out," said Austin.

Austin has entered three squads in the pre-season tournament sponsored by the Elks Club, which started Monday, Oct. 22. Each team will play at least once a week and sometimes twice. This will give the W.U. mentor a chance to see all his men under fire of competition furnished by such tough independent teams as the Cudahy Packers, Fischer's Garage, and the Cathedral A.C.

Austin has divided the three squads as follows:

- Squad one: Center, Kuhl; guards, Price, Frutis, Fischer, Winters; Steiler; forwards, Cupit, Souders, Volkman, Skinner.
- Squad two: Centers, Powell, Moore; forwards, Vore, Woodman, Weeks, Hull, Wallace; guards, Noble, Rathbone, Kellough.
- Squad three: Center, Shaver; forwards, Snodgrass, Beaver; guards, Koplitz, Allpaugh, Bodkin.
