Re-envisioning Assessment at Wichita State University

Let's end the semester re-envisioning assessment of student learning here at Wichita State! Join Dr. Gianina Baker of the National Institute for Learning Outcomes Assessment for a presentation encouraging attendees to reflect on the lessons learned this past year in the midst of a pandemic, to explore how we might think differently about assessing students in the semesters ahead, and to share the needs of faculty and staff working toward a student-focused institution.

TUESDAY, APRIL 20, 2021 | 3:00 PM - 4:30 PM | Virtual Presentation

Spring 2020

In March 2020, Dr. Marlene Schommer-Aikins- "Basic Knowledge Needed to Assess Students." Dr. Schommer-Aikins described how an academic program can develop an assessment plan. The assessment helps academic programs prepare for accreditation agencies and helps them self-evaluate for annual reviews of their programs.

Fall 2019

In October of 2019, Dr. Jason Herron addressed the campus community with a presentation on "Item Writing for the Higher Education Classroom for Cognitive Assessments. Participants had the opportunity to review assessment theory and rework previous assessment items to align with best practice.
