

HLC Accreditation 2020-2021

Evidence Document

W. Frank Barton School of Business

Center for Management Development

WSU Connection

Additional information: See this page on the Web:
<https://cmd.wichita.edu/ws-connection/> (Accessed February 10, 2021.)

WSU Connection

The Center for Management Development plays a key role in Wichita State University's, W. Frank Barton School of Business. Creating unique and useful learning programs specifically tailored to the needs of the regional business community, the Center for Management Development harnesses the knowledge base of Wichita State University to produce educational training programs that help make businesses and their employees more successful.

W. Frank Barton School of Business 2019-2020 Annual Report

Drawing from a staff of over 350 experts in fields ranging from business to engineering; from information technology to copy writing; we offer one of the largest, most comprehensive training resources in the region.

*During 2019
The Center for Management Development hosted over 260 training sessions, and welcomed almost 4,600 participants into our classroom from 411 different companies in 15 different state guided by 18 talented instructors*

Wichita State University is the largest University in southern Kansas, boasting a student body of over 14,000 students. Located in Wichita, Kansas, W.S.U. plays a significant role in the area Aerospace industry, which holds the distinction of being the Air Capital of the World.