

PERSONAL.

When Mr. Shay sailed, this crowd and others of his friends gave him a banquet at the Astor House, Colon. When the boat left the pier some one yelled to Shay to throw them his hat for a souvenir which he did. The hat fell short of the pier and in the water, some one jumping in and getting it.

Mrs. Shay was also requested to throw her hat which she did, it likewise falling into the water. Some one jumped in and got this one also.

Coming home on #7, one of the crowd lost his hat out the window, and then they started throwing one another's hats out. Finally Shay's hat was thrown out by mistake and later Thompson threw the news-boy's hat out who complained to one of the train-guard. The boy was paid for his hat and the guard warned them they would have to stop making so much noise. Later Thompson and Carl became engaged in an altercation and they were arrested. Judge Marsh fined them for disorderly conduct the next morning, stating that it did not appear to be a very flagrant case.

Respectfully.

Thompson was not working, and Carl was requested to resign which he did, later being re-employed as a Port Foreman in Longwood Div.
