Polls Open for SGA Election

SGA Candidates Make Bids

Hopefuls Cite BPOC Stand

John Allen, BPOC

The declaration that the Association for Better Politics on Campus has tried to offer something to every area of the campus was issued by John Allen and Claude Lee, Liberal Arts juniors.

They are BPOC candidates for president and vice-president of the Student Government Association. Their statement was made concerning the BPOC platform.

"In two years we (BPOC party) have made student government more active on this campus. Now is an important and decisive factor in the administrative policy of the University," Lee said.

Elevated Student Government
Allen said, "We have elevated student government in the eyes of the Administration through interaction with the Administration."

"As part of our complete representation of campus life, we have brought about a two-day extension of the Easter vacation, a two-day top period before finals in the 1958-59 academic year, and Council representatives sitting in the Dean's committee in counseling for the honors system."

There are 11 planks making up that the two termed as "a broad platform for every area of campus" (Continued on Page 6)

Politics or Policies?

As the time for voting draws near, there must be a number of confused individuals on the campus. Steadily, for four days, the University community has been flooded with posters, paint, candidates, charges, claims, and counter-charges.

The hour of decision is upon the voters. Those who will be going to the polls must decide what to vote for, or, as the case may be, against.

For a week two parties have wooed the voters, almost to the saturation point. The period of courtship has been an intense one.

The issues are clouded and the candidates, many. However, each voter must guard against personal bias. The importance of student government must not be minimized. Past records demonstrate that decisions made there do influence the administration.

The voters must decide who they want in control. It is, as we see it, a case of politics or policies. Voters must decide which of the two they want to see handling student government.

Is the party for which you're voting more interested in getting personalities or policies in office. For example, which is more important in the case of the student government president, who he is or the platform on which he conducts his campaign?

We suggest that policies are more important than playing politics with personalities. Good Joes are fine, but not for student government.

Why not take a look at this issue of politics versus policy. Think before you vote. The polls are open until 2 p.m.

Pep Petitions Due Today in SS Office

Petitions for Pep Council officers must be returned to the student services office by noon today, according to Carolyn Peel, pep coordinator.

The four positions to be filled are pep coordinator, assistant pep coordinator, secretary, and treasurer. Applicants for either the pep coordinator or the assistant pep coordinator must have served at least one year on the council.

Graduation Date Set

Commencement exercises for graduating seniors will be held at 6 p.m. Sunday, June 1, in the Fieldhouse, according to Dr. Worth A. Fletcher, registrar.

The opening speaker of the evening will be Dr. William H. Corneg, superintendent of New Trier Township High School, Winnetka, Illinois. His subject will be "Progress and Privacy."

James P. Robertson and the University Orchestra will perform during the program.

Degrees will be conferred upon the seniors by Pres. Harry F. Corbin, and Henry Amsden, president of the Board of Regents.

Commissions will be awarded to graduating Army ROTC students by Capt. Charles Martin, acting professor of military science. Commissions will be conferred upon the Air ROTC graduates by Lt. Col. Peter DeGroot, professor of air science.

Baptist House To Open Today

The Baptist Student Union house, the first house of its kind, will be officially opened for student use today.

The house, located at 1818 North Yale, is designed for the activities of Baptist students. It was completely furnished by the members of the organization, and is sponsored by the Baptist churches of this area.

Following the opening, devotionals will be held each noon for any students wishing to attend.

AURP Makes Ballot Vows

An active and effective student government has been promised by the two leading candidates of the All University Representation party.

Larry Larkin, AURP

Larry Larkin, Business Administration junior and AURP candidate for the SGA presidency, in a prepared statement said, "Many times the students, as individuals, are overlooked, and I intend to make the student government ever mindful of every University student."

"As an independent student, the lack of school functions designed to meet the needs of the unaffiliates has been evident to me, and this is an area where I would strive for many improvements, tailored to meet our needs. If elected, I intend to provide the necessary active leadership required for effective student government."

Time for Change
Darrell Claussen, Engineering junior asserted in his release that it was time for a change in student government since the party in power had become a party of inquiries and investigations rather than a party of action.

"If elected, I guarantee that we will give the students a govern" (Continued on Page 2)

Allen Faces Larkin For Top Office

Despite the fog of clouded issues, students will go to the polls today to vote for the first Student Government Association officers, congressmen, and class officers.

The initial campaign under the newly approved student government constitution has brought an estimated 15,000 sheets of mimeographed election propaganda and an undetermined amount of posters to the campus.

Polls Open At 8

Polls will open in five campus buildings at 8 a.m. They will be closed at 2 p.m., according to Election Commissioner Hal Rhodes. He said polls would be located in Jardine Hall, Neff Hall, Fine Arts Center, and Commons Lounge.

Each student will be asked to cast ballots for officers, class officers, college representatives, and representatives at large. In addition a proposed constitutional amendment and cheerleaders will be voted on by the students.

Students must present ID cards to vote, Rhodes said.

Allen, Larkin Vie

Vying for the presidency of SGA are John Allen (BPOC) and Larry Larkin (AURP). Allen is the president of the new University Flying Association. Larkin is treasurer of Student Forum Board. Both are unaffiliates.

Candidates for the vice-presidency are Darrell Claussen, Engineering junior, AURP; and Claude Lee, Liberal Arts junior, BPOC.

Candidates for the post of SGA secretary are Judy Dodson, Music sophomore, BPOC; and Carolyn Peel, Business Administration junior, AURP.

Running for treasurer are the present Council treasurer, Mary Frances Watson, Liberal Arts junior, BPOC; and Elaine Davis, Liberal Arts sophomore, AURP.

SC Holds Final Meet; Plans Joint Session

In one of the shortest meetings of the year, Student Council met for the final time Monday night.

Next week a joint meeting of the outgoing Student Council members and the newly-elected Student Government Association officers and Congressmen is planned.

Procedures Explained
During the Council's business session, Vice-president Hal Rhodes explained procedures for today's SGA election.

He said polls would be open from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. in five locations, Commons Lounge, Jardine Hall, Fine Arts Center, Neff Hall, and the Engineering Building.

Student Council members and class officers will operate the booths.

Plan 6 Ballots
Six ballots will be given to each student. Included are SGA officers and Alumni Association representative college representatives, representatives-at-large, cheerleaders, class officers, and a constitutional

No Babies to Kiss Politicos Smile, Shake Hands In Last Minute Vote Effort

By LESLIE WILSON
Sunflower Special Writer

May 16, 8 a.m. and the campus politicians are busily distributing last minute blurb sheets and propaganda.

The loud speakers begin to sound between classes, and the lawn of the Commons is littered with posters, more propaganda, people—and politicians.

There appears a steady stream of students in and out of the Alibi—these are party members "hustling" votes for their candidates.

Innocent students are approached on the sidewalks and in classrooms and encouraged to "follow me to the polls."

There is no other day like an election day, and no other week could equal election week.

Poster parties, coffee, conferences with campaign managers, accusations—all of these are a part of "politikin'."

Accusations are many voters, too few.

In a few short hours the polls will be closed, and the winning party known. The posters will be torn down the ballot boxes returned to storage. A victory party will be held for the winning group, while the other campaign manager says, "Wait'll next year."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Hmmm?

To The Editor

After reading Larry Larkin's letter to the editor in Tuesday's Sunflower, I must assume that Mr. Larkin, if elected, will seek greater emphasis placed upon the field of athletics on the university campus (if greater emphasis could be placed upon them).

I would like to ask one question. Is this what Mr. Larkin calls keeping up with Russia?

Sincerely,

Don Rude

Liberal Arts senior

Partiality—

To the Editor:

It was quite interesting to note the pictures of Hippodrome skis which appeared in the May 5th Sunflower—perhaps because of the obvious absence of attention given to the first place winner of the women's division and the winner in the unaffiliate division. Pictures of the second place skit in the women's division and a non-placing skit in the men's division appeared, however.

Could this be due to the fact that our campus editor and managing editor are associated with the groups whose skits are pictured? This, indeed, is an excellent example of partiality.

Jim Shearer

Business Administration senior

—Editor's Note: Yes, this is an excellent example of partiality. However, the photographer did not get pictures of the skits to which you refer. Incidentally, we of the Sunflower would like to meet you. Why don't you bring your letter in person next time, rather than sending it by fraternity pledge courier?

In the AURP platform, assertions are made that publication of the minutes of SCIA meeting will be available to the student body, as a whole, to let students know what representatives are doing to further the interests of the people involved.

The platform pledges to revise the Homecoming ceremonies along lines of greater interest to the student, and wider ranges of development and methods of procedure.

The AURP in its platform intends to give the alumni representative the job of committee chairman in charge of Homecoming, guarantees a strict and honest interpretation of the constitution, will work with the administration

This magic box hustles through 166,188 bills in just 3 1/2 days. It used to take 6 girls, with help from others, to do only 14,000 in the same time. The computer also does it more accurately (better service to you), and releases valuable employees for more important and interesting work. Making bills by hand was mighty dull.

The computer does many other accounting jobs, too. So you see, it saves the company many thousands of dollars each year... savings that are passed on to you in the form of continued low electric rates. It's just one of the many ways we've been able to combat increasing costs to keep your electric rates lower than they've ever been.

Research Center to Open

The University will begin an Urban Studies Center next week when Sigfrid Pearson, newly-appointed director, opens the center.

The new center will provide economic and sociological information from which individuals and groups can draw resource material essential in making decisions about future economic, industrial, and population development of this area, according to Dr. James K. Sours, associate professor of political science.

Anyone, who has a problem which bears on the urban culture, can go to the center to find the information he needs, Dr. Sours said.

Former Deputy Director

Pearson, deputy director of the Municipal Research Bureau for the city of Syracuse, New York, was scheduled to take up his duties here yesterday.

A graduate of the University of Connecticut, he served four years as a senior research associate for the Connecticut Public Expenditure Council, and one year as assistant to the mayor of Syracuse.

Dr. Sours said the Center represents one phase of the University Development Program announced last winter. The Center will be located in the former Research House on the east campus.

Provides Many Services

"As it is presently visualized," Dr. Sours said, "The Center will assist in the provision of special library materials on urban problems; can provide informational services to officials and civic groups of our own and surrounding cities; serve to give training in research and pre-public service activities to our top undergraduate and graduate students in the departments concerned; provide workshops, clinics and similar post-entry training for public officials who desire it; and can provide consultive services, perform short range surveys on specific subjects and perform similar related functions.

Tool to Seek Solutions

"Through these various activities, the center will obviously not be a self-contained entity, but will be rather a tool for the use of our citizens in seeking solutions to their problems and a tool for bringing the maximum academic resources available in Wichita to bear on the many-faceted problems of urban and metropolitan areas."

Business Frat Initiates Nine

Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, initiated nine pledges recently.

They were: Jerry Blue, G. D. Bruntzel, Jim Crawford, Robert Dryden, Michael Glass, Norman Klein, Keith Miers, Robert Pease, and Jay Sprecker.

Ben Coffin, alumnus of Kansas State College, and presently district manager of the A. H. Roes Company, was the guest speaker at the initiation.

The University baseball team closed out play in the Missouri Valley Conference on the victory side with a win over the Houston Cougars, 4-3. The Cougars were held to eight hits by Wichita pitcher Al Swartzkopf.

AROTC Presents Display for Tots

A fireworks display, an elementary drill team demonstration, and a machine gun crew drill for the gifted children of the Christopher Rankin School, and the actual firing of a mortar were among the events of the Army ROTC Field Day in Shocker Stadium Wednesday night.

The display and the mortar firing were under the supervision of Captain William E. Prescott, assistant professor of military science, and the demonstration drills were under the supervision of cadet Leon Matassarini.

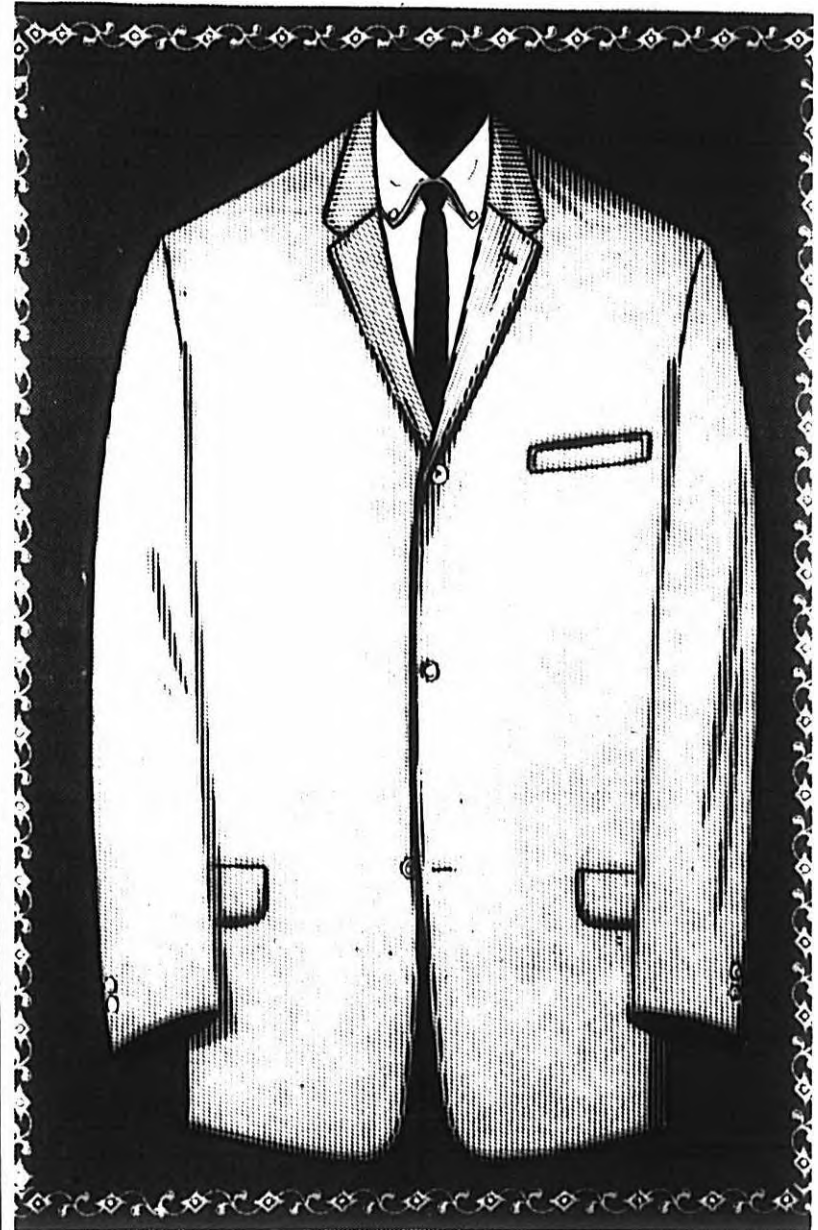

Other field day events included the assembly and dis-assembly of the M-1 rifle, the automatic rifle, and the light machine gun; the mortar crew drill; the squad drill; the manual of arms drill—down, basic and advanced; a voice and command exercise; and a demonstration drill by the Pershing Rifles.

Pearson Awarded High Score Prize

Delo Pearson, Engineering junior, fired the top individual score in the annual Invitational Gallery Matches at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln.

Pearson, a member of the composite Army-Air Force ROTC five-man team, received a rifle cleaning kit for being high scorer. ROTC units from the mid-western area competed in the matches.

Shock Talk

BY LARRY McCOMB
Sports Editor

In sports, as in everything, there are a number of events of this school year that are never forgotten. To some this may be a touchdown or long run by their favorite player or a free throw in the last seconds of play that won a game. We thought it might be interesting to present what we consider to have been big moments in sports at the University during the year just past.

Leading off varsity sports every year is football. Although the 1957-58 Shockers could manage only one win in ten games, the season nevertheless provided its share of excitement for spectators as well as the players. To most people the '57 football team will not be remembered so much for having lost nine games as it will for having beaten undefeated Drake on Homecoming Day.

Also standing out in a dismal football season was the brilliant play of sophomore fullback Ted Dean. Dean was among the top ground gainers in the Conference all season. Besides being selected for the All-Conference second team, Ted led the Shockers in interception runbacks, rushing average, punting average, total yards and scoring.

In the Shocker line, outstanding play was turned in by veterans Bob Blackwell, Harry Horton, Jack Doeter, Galen Kabance, Bruce Bierig, and Don Sweazy.

Following football season came Basketball and the Golden Anniversary year of competition for Wichita eagles produced a winning team as the Shockers romped through a tough 26 game schedule with a record of 14 wins against 12 losses.

The season also marked the Shockers debut on television as the Iowa game at the Fieldhouse was telecast live over KAKE-TV. Wichita came through in championship style that night as they played one of their best games of the season to upset the favored Hawkeyes of the late Bucky O'Connor, 81-78.

Early in the season the Shockers sported a 10-2 record but then fell into a mid season slump that saw them losing seven out of the next eight games. All-American Joe Stevens closed out a brilliant college career as did regulars Don Woodworth, and New York Yankee baseballer, Don Lock.

Tragedy hit the Shocker basketball team, as well as the entire University recently, with the untimely and tragic death of Larry Abbot. The Jetmore athlete will be greatly missed by all those who knew him.

Probably most successful of the 1957-58 varsity activities has been the spring sports program on the campus. Led by the greatest tennis team in Wichita history, the Shockers have rolled up a greater number of victories in all sports than any other teams in the past. Leading the tennis team to a very impressive record of 13-2 were Jimmie Carter, Bill Potter, Peter Piper and Norris Barker.

Certainly one of the surprises of the year was the play of the Shocker baseball team. The new conference ruling that allowed freshmen to participate in spring sports provided Coach Ray Morrison with an all freshman infield that came through in veteran fashion.

The Shockers also received exceptional pitching throughout the season from Al Swartzkopf, Vern Grundorf, and Bruce Woods. Chipping in to spark the team at the plate were John Haran, Rich Casidy, Jim Myrtle, Dave Weihe and Jim Patterson.

Track season saw the completion of one of the outstanding careers in WU track history as senior Ron Eeles topped a brilliant year with terrific 4:15.6 mile in the league meet at Des Moines. The WU cindersmen, under the second year of Coach Fritz Snodgrass, finished the season strong to place third in the conference meet last week behind Houston and North Texas State.

Golf, which has always been a weak sport at the University, saw Wichita come up with a team this year that captured third place in the conference tournament and posted a winning season overall. Mainstays on the team were Tom Vickers, Duke Evans, and Tony Amend.

COACH SCHOOL

University head basketball coach will conduct a lesson on the fundamentals of the fast break.

Other lecturers will include University track coach Fritz Snodgrass, Eddie Wojceki of Rice Institute, and Marion McDonald of Washburn.

Several Kansas high school coaches also will help with football and basketball panels.

The clinic will be conducted in the Fine Arts Center.

Golfers Take 3rd in MVC Tourney

The Shockers' much-improved golf team won third place in the Missouri Valley Conference meet held at the Wichita Country Club last weekend.

Houston University, who has won the title for the third straight year, beat out its nearest competitor, North Texas State, by 40 strokes, for the 1958 MVC championship.

Also for the third season medalist honors went to Houston's Phil Rodgers, the Cougars' leading linkster. Rodgers had to beat out two of his own teammates for the title. Bob Pratt and Jim Hiskey placed behind Rodgers. Rodgers' low score was 215, just two strokes over par. Pratt and Hiskey came in with totals of 216 and 223 respectively.

Low man for the Shockers was

Duke Evans who ended the tourney with a 225 score good enough for a fourth place. Other Shockers to place were Tommy Vickers at 239, Tony Amend with a 245, Tommy Schmitt 248, and Butch Van Duesen, 270.

Behind the Shockers in team totals came Tulsa 970, St. Louis 999, Bradley 1,026, Cincinnati 1,030, and Drake 1,084.

The Shock golfers who were last in the 1958 MVC tournament at Tulsa, not only moved up to notch the third spot this year but also improved about 100 strokes over last year's team total.

WU Takes 2nd Place

Wichita University's tennis team placed second behind Houston in the fortieth conference championship matches held at Tulsa last week.

The Cougars, in winning their fifth consecutive net crown, tied a record by Washington University of St. Louis. Houston has won the championship every year since 1951, except for 1953 when Oklahoma State took top honors.

Cliff Vickery of Houston won the first division singles title and teamed to win the doubles event. Houston went on to win all of its matches.

Shockers netters won three semifinals. Carter, Potter and Peter Piper all took their contests.

HOPEFULS CITE

Leading these are working with the University's Administration for a more equitable scheduling of final examination, and encouraging and underwriting the formation of a Lettermen's Club for the University's athletes.

Plans More Activity

The platform pledges to continue the work begun this year on the establishment of an honor program in testing, and securing national leadership and scholastic honors for the University.

Giving unprecedented support to an International Club, formed by University students and students from abroad; aiding in the organization of departmental organizations; and the establishment of an adequate leadership school to prepare campus leaders for the future, are more of the planks in the BPOC platform.

Would Revise Code

The platform is completed with the preparing of a revised and complete election code for the operation of SGA elections, the investigation of a super-market selling of textbooks at registration time, and working toward the securing of cigarette machines in all campus buildings.

LAST CALL FOR STICKLERS! If you haven't Stickled by now, you may never get the chance again! Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (Don't do drawings.) Send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

WHAT'S A SENIOR WHO DOESN'T GET LUCKIES FOR A GRADUATION PRESENT?
(SEE PARAGRAPH BELOW)

GRADUATION PRESENTS? You may get a (Groan!) 6-cylinder European sports car or a (Yawn!) 6-month European vacation. These silly baubles just prove that parents don't understand the college generation. What every senior really wants (C'mon now, admit it!) is a generous supply of Luckies! Luckies, as everyone knows, are the best-tasting cigarettes on earth. They're packed with rich, good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. So the senior who doesn't receive 'em is bound to be a Sad Grad! Why let parents spoil commencement—it only happens (Sob!) once. Tell 'em to gift-wrap those Luckies right now!
